1. Introduction

Danes Hill School is committed to providing equal access for all pupils to a broad and balanced curriculum and reflects the ethos of the Equality Act 2010 and the SEND Code of Practice (2014). The school values and respects the personal qualities and needs of individual pupils and endeavours to provide a secure but challenging learning environment where they can thrive regardless of their special educational needs and disabilities (SEND).

There is a whole school approach to children with special educational needs. Teachers take collective responsibility for the support of all pupils through high quality in-class differentiation. When, despite quality-first teaching, children are not making expected progress, teachers refer the child to the Learning Support Centre (LSC), and in adherence to the current SEND Code of Practice (2014), children's SEND is identified in partnership with the child, parents, and external agencies where applicable.

2. Definitions

2.1 Special Educational Needs

A child or young person has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she:

- has significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or
- has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions.

2.2 Disability

Pupils are considered to have a disability if they have a physical or mental impairment that has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on their ability to do normal daily activities.

The school will make reasonable adjustments for pupils with disabilities, so that they are not at a substantial disadvantage compared with their peers.

Danes Hill School addresses its legal duty to ensure that everyone in the school successfully carries out the statutory duties outlined with the Equality Act.

The Equality Act identifies disability as: when a person has a 'physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on that person's ability to carry out normal day to day activities.

- Substantial means more than minor or trivial;
- Impairment covers, for example, a physical condition such as asthma and diabetes, a mental impairment includes mental conditions such as bipolar disorder or depression.
- Long-term means for longer than 12 months.

2.3 The 4 areas of need:

The needs of pupils with SEND are grouped into 4 broad areas. Pupils can have needs that cut across more than 1 area, and their needs may change over time.

Interventions will be selected that are appropriate for the pupil's particular area(s) of need, at the relevant time.

- Communication and interaction, including young people with ASD and Autism.
- Cognition and learning needs, including specific learning difficulties such as dyslexia or dyspraxia.
- Social, emotional and mental health difficulties, including attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder.
- Sensory and/or physical needs, including vision impairment, hearing impairment or a multi-sensory impairment.

3. Roles and Responsibilities

3.1 The SENCo

The SENCo will:

- Inform any parents that their child may have SEND and then liaise with them about the pupil's needs and any provision made.
- Work with the Headteacher and Governing body to determine the strategic development of the SEND policy and provision in the school.
- Have day-to-day responsibility for the operation of this SEND policy and the co-ordination of specific provision made to support individual pupils with SEND, including those who have EHC plans.
- Provide professional guidance to colleagues and liaise and work with staff, parents, and other agencies to make sure that pupils with SEND receive appropriate support and high-quality teaching.
- Advise on the graduated approach to providing SEND support and differentiated teaching methods appropriate for individual pupils.
- Be a point of contact for external agencies, especially the local authority (LA) and its support services, and work with external agencies to ensure that appropriate provision is provided.
- Liaise with potential next providers of education to make sure that the pupil and their parents are informed about options and that a smooth transition is planned.
- When a pupil moves to a different school or institution: Make sure that all relevant information about a pupil's SEND and the provision for them are sent to the appropriate authority, school or institution in a timely manner.
- Work with the Headteacher and school Governors to make sure the school meets its responsibilities under the Equality Act 2010 with regard to reasonable adjustments and access arrangements.
- Make sure the school keeps its records of all pupils with SEND up to date and accurate.

- With the Senior Leadership Team (SLT), monitor to identify any staff who have specific training needs regarding SEND, and incorporate this into the school's plan for continuous professional development.
- With SLT, regularly review and evaluate the breadth and impact of the SEND support the school offers or can access and co-operate with the LA in reviewing the provision that is available locally and in developing the local offer.

3.2 The Headteacher and SLT:

The Headteacher and SLT will:

- Work with the SENCo and Governing body to determine the strategic development of the SEND policy and provision within the school.
- Work with the SENCo and Governing body to make sure the school meets its responsibilities under the Equality Act 2010 with regard to reasonable adjustments and access arrangements.
- Have overall responsibility for, and awareness of, the provision for pupils with SEND, and their progress.
- Make sure that the SENCo has enough time to carry out their duties.
- Have an overview of the needs of the current cohort of pupils on the SEND register.
- With the SENCo, monitor to identify any staff who have specific training needs regarding SEND, and incorporate this into the school's plan for continuous professional development.
- With the SENCo, regularly review and evaluate the breadth and impact of the SEND support the school offers or can access and co-operate with the LA in reviewing the provision that is available locally and in developing the local offer.
- With the SENCo and teaching staff, identify any patterns in the school's identification of SEND, both within the school and in comparison, with national data, and use these to reflect on and reinforce the quality of teaching.

3.3 Class teachers

Each class teacher is responsible for:

- Planning and providing high-quality teaching that is differentiated to meet pupil needs through a graduated approach.
- The progress and development of every pupil in their class.
- Working closely with any teaching assistants or specialist staff to plan and assess the impact of support and interventions and consider how they can be linked to classroom teaching.
- Working with the SENCo to review each pupil's progress and development and decide on any changes to provision.
- Ensuring they follow this SEND policy.
- Communicating with parents regularly to:
 - Set clear outcomes and review progress towards them.
 - Discuss the activities and support that will help achieve the set outcomes.
 - Identify the responsibilities of the parent, the pupil, and the school.
 - Listen to the parents' concerns and agree their aspirations for the pupil.

3.4 Parents or carers

Parents or carers should inform the school if they have any concerns about their child's progress or development.

Parents or carers of a pupil on the SEND register will always be given the opportunity to provide information and express their views about the pupil's SEND and the support provided. They will be invited to participate in discussions and decisions about this support. They will be:

- Invited to regular meetings with their class teacher, and/or SENCo to review the provision that is in place for their child.
- Asked to provide information about the impact of SEND support outside school and any changes in the pupil's needs.
- Given the opportunity to share their concerns and, with school staff, agree their aspirations for the pupil.
- Given a regular report on the pupil's progress.
- The school will take into account the views of the parent or carer in any decisions made about the pupil.

3.5 The pupil

Pupils will always be given the opportunity to provide information and express their views about their SEND and the support provided. They will be invited to participate in discussions and decisions about this support. This might involve the pupil:

- Explaining what their strengths and difficulties are.
- Contributing to setting targets or outcomes.
- Attending review meetings.
- Giving feedback on the effectiveness of interventions.

The pupil's views will be considered in making decisions that affect them, whenever possible.

4. Our approach to SEND support

4.1 Quality First Teaching

At Danes Hill, class teachers are responsible for the progress of pupils with SEND. Staff at Danes Hill are committed to meeting the needs of all children in the classroom. This begins with the expectation of high-quality in-class differentiation.

4.2 Identifying pupils with SEND and assessing their needs

We will assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment when they start at the school. This will build on information from previous settings and Key Stages, where appropriate. We will also consider any evidence that the pupil may have a disability and if so, what reasonable adjustments the school may need to make.

Class teachers will regularly assess the progress of all pupils and identify any whose progress:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline.
- Fails to match or better their previous rate of progress.
- Fails to close the attainment gap between them and their peers.
- Widens the attainment gap.

This may include progress in areas other than attainment, for example, wider development or social needs.

When teachers identify an area where a pupil is making slow progress, they will target the pupil's area of weakness with differentiated, high-quality teaching. If progress does not improve, the teacher will raise a concern with the SENCo to have an initial discussion about whether this lack of progress may be due to a special educational need. Where necessary they will, in consultation with the pupil's parents or carers, consider consulting an external specialist.

Slow progress and low attainment will not automatically mean a pupil is recorded as having SEND. Potential short-term causes of impact on behaviour or performance will be considered, such as bullying or bereavement. Staff will also take particular care in identifying and assessing SEND for pupils whose first language is not English.

When deciding whether the pupil needs special educational provision, we will start with the desired outcomes, including the expected progress and attainment, and the views and the wishes of the pupil and their parents. We will use this to determine the support that is needed and whether we can provide it by adapting our core offer, or whether something different or additional is needed.

If a pupil is joining the school, and:

- Their previous setting has already identified that they have SEND.
- They are known to external agencies.
- They have an Education, Health Care Plan (EHCP).

Then the school will work in a multi-agency way to make sure we get relevant information before the pupil starts at school, so support can be put in place as early as possible.

5. The graduated approach to SEND support

Once a pupil has been identified as having SEND, we will take action to remove any barriers to learning and put effective special educational provision in place. This support will be delivered through successive rounds of a 4-part cycle known as the graduated approach (Appendix 1).

Throughout this process, parents and relevant staff are consulted to understand the pupil's key areas of need and what adjustments are required to support them in the classroom.

In most cases, the additional educational provision will not require specialist intervention and can be met from within the classroom. These identified needs and support strategies will be documented and tracked through either a Pupil Passport (Appendix 2) or an Individual Education Plan (IEP) (Appendix 3), for those pupils that attend learning support lessons.

Support available in school:

- Individual Learning Support Lessons (at an additional cost to parents)
- SEND Screening Services
- Booster Groups run by teachers and Learning Support Department.

- Computer-run interventions
- Older pupils (Year 7 and 8) may drop a second modern language and continue with one. They attend small group lessons targeted to improve their literacy levels (Extra English).
- Provision for exceptionally able pupils is made individually or in small groups and encompasses following areas of expertise and specific interest such as additional languages, science extension work and art/DT.
- In addition to the use of classroom strategies, differentiated to address the learning styles and needs of SEN pupils, specialist equipment may be used such as laptops and spellcheckers.
- Small group provision in Pre-Prep and KS1 for phonics, reading, handwriting and numeracy.

An Educational Health Care Plan (EHCP) may be sought for any pupil who, despite a prolonged period of intervention and involvement of outside agencies, fails to make adequate progress.

6. Communication and Information Sharing

Where a pupil is receiving SEND support, or is classified as having SEND, all staff are informed through meetings with the learning support department, and the distribution of 'SEN Pupil Passports' and 'Individual Education Plans' (IEPs) for individual educational provision.

Pupil Passports are school-wide documents (Appendix 2), drawn up by the SENCo and/or class teachers, in consultation with parents and pupils. This document highlights a pupil's individual needs, and what adjustments are required in the classroom to support them.

Individual Education Plans (IEPs) are drawn up by Learning Support staff who are assigned to work with these pupils in liaison with the SENCo and curriculum staff (Appendix 3). The LS staff monitor progress and give advice on any differentiation needed in lessons. LSC pupils are tested in LSC to monitor their progress in terms of reading accuracy, speed, reading comprehension and spelling accuracy. LSC staff liaise with classroom and departmental staff to discuss progress after each set of exams, and whether the period of tuition should cease, or a new IEP will need to encompass new targets.

7. Links with external professional agencies

The school recognises that it will not be able to meet all the needs of every pupil. Some pupils are seen by outside agencies and in some instances, their staff may come into school to see pupils. Some pupils have had outside agency support from their early years and others may be referred later because of health difficulties arising such as 'glue ear' for example. The agencies most frequently involved include:

- Educational Psychologists
- Speech and language therapists
- Occupational therapists, speech and language therapists or physiotherapists

- General practitioners or paediatricians
- School nurses
- Child and adolescent mental health services (CAMHS)
- Education welfare officers
- Social services

All the above stages are fluid and appropriate support is deemed in consultation with parents. Some stages may be added or removed to best support the pupil in question.

8. Education, Health Care Plans

The School will respond to the needs of any pupils with an EHC plan and will implement recommendations in consultation with the Local Authority (LA) and organise and host the Annual Review of the pupil's needs. For this purpose, Form Tutors and subject teachers are expected to report on the progress made by the pupil. It is the responsibility of the SENCo to collate this information into a school report that is presented formally at the Annual Review meeting to parents and a representative of the appropriate LA.

9. Safeguarding pupils with Learning Support Needs

The School recognises that pupils with LS needs may be more vulnerable to bullying or other kinds of abuse. To ensure that all pupils receive equal protection, we give special consideration and attention to any pupil who is disabled or has specific educational needs, including those who do not have English as a first language. Monitoring is carried out through the pastoral systems of the School. The Form Tutor, in conjunction with the pupils' Head of Year, monitors these pupils closely. Where necessary, pupils with specific needs may be discussed at the weekly Pastoral Meeting.

10. Learning Support Staffing

The LSC departments consists of a SENCO, and 4 specialist-staff. LSC staff working with pupils for individual lessons use an eclectic approach encompassing established and updated programmes of intervention designed for the needs of the pupil's undertaking tuition. They aim to build on pupil strengths and develop their confidence and enjoyment of their tuition as they tackle the areas that they find difficult.

11. Admissions Arrangements

Pupils entering the school are assessed as set out in the Admissions Policy. The Deputy Head Academic may undertake further assessment and ask parents and feeder schools for reports on any pupils presenting with SEND to verify that the school can meet their needs and offer the appropriate provision. The SENCo advises staff and parents working with an incoming pupil with identified SEND.

In line with the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act, we seek to ensure that those with special educational needs are not treated less favourably or put at a substantial disadvantage in matters of admission. The School will take all reasonable measures to support a child and will make reasonable adjustments to ensure accessibility to the curriculum where required. Danes Hill does not have the expertise on the staff team to provide for the needs of pupils with moderate or severe learning difficulties. However, the School does have a Learning Support Department which works in conjunction with the teaching staff and the parents to support, in certain cases, a range of mild difficulties. The Head has the right to refuse admission of a pupil, if in their professional judgement, the School cannot provide adequately for a pupil's special educational needs.

12. Timetabling

For those pupils that attend individual learning support lessons, they are withdrawn from lessons to attend the LSC. One or two lessons weekly are timetabled. Pupils in need of a significant level of support may attend more frequently and a flexible approach is used. The priority when timetabling pupils is to ensure that they have access to a broad-based curriculum and that core subjects are not missed. A pupil's individual strengths and weaknesses are considered in addition to the advice of staff and parental requests. LSC staff are timetabled by the SENCo.

13. Examination Procedures

Danes Hill School recognises that pupils need to show what they know in assessment situations, therefore, access arrangements are made to meet the needs of pupils with SEND in the form of for example, additional time or the use of a scribe, reader or prompter. Current JCQ guidelines are used, and the access arrangements are drawn from formal assessments and recommendations therein.

On referral, pupils in the Upper School are screened by the SENCo for handwriting speed and reading comprehension to aid identification of access arrangement need. The aim is that SEND pupils are not treated less favourably and that any concessions granted as special adjustments do not adversely affect the integrity of the assessments and examination they undertake.

The SENCo draws up a list of pupils entitled to access arrangements such as an additional time allowance or other specialist provision for both internal and external assessment situations, and keeps staff informed.

Staff are encouraged to write all test materials considering the reading ages of their pupils in order that no pupil is discriminated against on grounds of difficulty in accessing the papers set.

14. Arrangements for training and development of all staff in SEND

The Deputy Head Academic and SENCo organise regular INSETs exploring aspects of SEND and individual provision for pupils for staff and external delegates within the framework of the school's mission statement: 'Educating the Whole Child'. In addition, a termly SEND CPD schedule is arranged to support the development of the inclusive classroom for all children. This helps focus staff attention on innovative ideas and ways of working with all pupils and not only those with current LS provision.

15. Criteria for evaluating the success of the SEND Policy

Danes Hill is committed to continuously develop SEND practice within the school, and has an annual action plan, as well as frequent meetings with parents and staff, both formal and informal to review/revise provision and celebrate success. The LS staff hold meetings weekly, and the SENCo meets members of SLT frequently to discuss pupils and provision in addition to other initiatives, which will enhance the pupils' educational experience.

16. Complaints about SEND Provision

Where parents have concerns about our school's SEND provision, they should first raise their concerns informally with the SENCo. We will try to resolve the complaint informally in the first instance. If this does not resolve their concerns, parents are welcome to submit their complaint formally.

Complaints will be handled in line with the school's complaints policy.

17. Monitoring the policy

This policy will be reviewed by the SENCo, SLT and Governing Body every year. It will also be updated when any new legislation, requirements or changes in procedure occur during the year.
